

A COMMUNITY OF LEARNING

Columbia Basin College

BUILDING FUTURES FOR CHANGING TIMES

March 17, 2008

To Whom It May Concern:

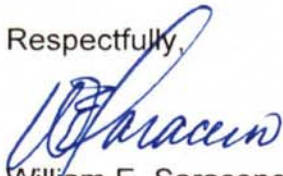

I am pleased to submit this letter of recommendation for Robert Uhrich of RGU Architecture & Planning.

Columbia Basin College's first experience with Robert was a major re-roofing project involving five of our buildings on the Pasco Campus. Robert did a great job with the specifications and project satisfaction exceeded our expectations. We have been fortunate to have him back to work on several other projects including the CBC Fitness Center addition, renovations to the L Building classrooms, and renovations to classrooms in the Science and Technology Building.

Currently, Robert has been in various phases of design on two larger projects for CBC: The B Building Renovation project and the V Building Replacement project. Robert contributed extensively to the College's Capital Requests for both of these projects, which required detailed project cost estimates on several state forms, site and project schematics, and program narratives. College staff enjoy working with Robert and his easy-going style because he listens intently, makes every effort to provide what is needed, and meets strict state deadlines.

I highly recommend RGU Architecture & Planning for all phases of construction projects.

Respectfully,

William E. Saraceno
Vice President for Administration
(509) 542-4408
bsaraceno@columbiabasin.edu